

Call for Papers – SERI-D Conference 2023

Third Annual Conference for Doctoral Students

Society for Economics Research in India

Conference dates: December 8-9, 2023 (Online)

Submission deadline: November 8, 2023, 11.59 p.m. IST

Email: phdworkshop@seri.network

The Society for Economics Research in India (SERI) is pleased to announce a call for papers for its Third Annual Conference dedicated to doctoral students based in India. The SERI-D conference aims to offer a platform for advanced graduate student to present papers that are close to completion for focused feedback and inputs that will enable them to take these to publication in internationally recognized peer-reviewed journals. We welcome papers from all fields within economics and papers that are theoretical, applied, or empirical. Graduate students enrolled in non-economics department who are working on topics in economics are welcome to apply.

Format: The conference will consist of 10-12 paper presentations for about 45-50 minutes followed by a detailed discussion led by a faculty member/senior researcher.

Eligibility: Doctoral students registered in Indian universities

Selection process: Submissions will be reviewed in the first instance by the organizing committee; the final selection of papers will be made in consultation with SERI members with the relevant domain expertise. Our intent is to ensure a mix of papers representing diverse fields, methods and institutions, without compromising on academic standards. The final selection will be announced on November 15, 2023. Selected presenters will have an opportunity to submit updated versions of their papers by November 30, 2023.

Instructions:
